Welcome

04

WELCOME to the 2021 Halton EnviroGuide.

The Halton EnviroGuide is designed as an educational* tool to provide our community with an easily navigable directory of environmentally-friendly businesses and service providers. This guide can help you shop locally and inform you about the wide variety of environmental non-profit groups, initiatives, and governmental agencies active across the Halton community.

The theme of this year's EnviroGuide is stewardship: being stewards of ourselves, our loved ones, of community, and of our environments and the planet are all connected. The Halton Environmental Network (HEN) wishes to help empower the Halton community to find local options that support climate change action, mitigation, and adaptation, environmental sustainability, and the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions.

In learning more about community groups and supports centred around sustainable practices, stewardship adopts a multidimensional nature: stewardship of the self and of the earth come hand in hand. We hope you find this guide and educational tool helpful and informative!

HEN Programs and Initiatives

05

The Halton Environmental Network (HEN) is proud to lead and to collaborate with community partners in a variety of environmental and climate change action efforts. HEN's aim — to support and foster educated citizens, engaged stakeholders, and best practice policies for climate change mitigation and adaptation and environmental sustainability — involves engaging 30,000 youth through volunteer initiatives, summer eco-camps, leadership opportunities, and more. Here you will find a list of our programs and initiatives, conveniently outlined on one page. To view each initiative in greater detail, you are invited to explore the body sections of this EnviroGuide and the Programs and Initiatives page of our website.
